Project Danes & Tinou, Chalandri

A residential property of minimal aesthetics with swimming pools and gardens for exclusive use in Chalandri. In a quiet area where the green element dominates and in a privileged plot with a wide view, we created a property complex of minimal aesthetics.

"DAN.TI Residence" is a strong milestone for our architectural team, as it leaves a very dynamic mark. The aim of the architectural design was the harmonious union of the interior with the exterior and its inseparable and continuous "dialog" with the environment and the water element. Great emphasis was placed on creating a shell that enhances the privacy and permeability of the properties. The main objective of the study was the direct connection with the surrounding area, the green gardens for exclusive use and the water element (private pools).

The challenge of the ground floor was the connection with the environment, both visually and functionally. The special property-landscape relationship is complemented by the large openings and the private pools that were used to highlight the architectural concept.

One of the most desired areas of Attica is Chalandri. It combines the easy access to the centre of Athens via public transportation and central highways, with the large market, the pedestrian zones, and the rich nightlife.
